

Sectional Contents

Foreword | xiii

Introduction. C. S. Lewis—On The Christ of A Religious Economy. I. Creation and Sub-Creation | 1

1. Who or What is the Christ | 1
2. Why C. S. Lewis | 3
3. Aims and Objectives | 4
4. Explanations, Qualifications | 6
 - i. Revelation and Reason | 6
 - ii. Patristic | 7
 - iii. Platonism | 7
 - iv. Apologist/Apologetics | 8
 - v. Creation, Fall, Incarnation, Resurrection, Second Coming, and the Four Last Things | 8
 - vi. Ontology | 9
 - vii. Liberal/liberal, Modernism | 9
 - viii. Pagan | 10
 - ix. Romantic | 11
5. "... and the Collected Works of C. S. Lewis" | 11
6. The Christ of a Religious Economy | 12

PART ONE THE FALL, ORIGINAL SIN, AND AN EXISTENTIAL CRISIS

Chapter 1. Creation and The Fall I: C. S. Lewis—A Doctrine of Creation | 17

1. Introduction | 18
2. "And God said..." | 18
3. Lewis on Creation: The Work of Christ | 20
4. First Axiom: God the Triune Creator | 20
5. Second Axiom: The Actuality of Creation | 25
6. Third Axiom: Purpose, Character, and Nature | 27
 - i. Theological Principle A: Creation as Separation | 30
 - ii. Theological Principle B: The Myth of Creation | 31

ON THE CHRIST OF A RELIGIOUS ECONOMY. I. CREATION AND SUB-CREATION

- iii. Theological Principle C: Humanity's Relation to God and Creation | 32
 - Why the Human? | 33
 - Purpose | 35
 - Relation and Obedience | 36
 - The Fall | 36
- vi. Theological Principle D: Sub-Creation and Sub-creators | 37
- 7. Fourth Axiom: The New Creation | 40
 - i. Cause and Cross, Creation and Consummation | 40
 - ii. Lewis: Markers of the New Creation | 42
 - iii. Nature and Grace | 45
- 8. Rebellion | 46

Chapter 2. Creation and The Fall II: Lewis's "Augustinian" Account | 47

- 1. Introduction | 47
- 2. The Fall: The Biblical Account | 48
- 3. Augustine's Doctrine | 50
 - i. A Judeo-Christian Anthropology | 50
 - ii. A Roman Catholic and Anglican Perspective | 51
 - iii. Concupiscence | 53
- 4. homo incurvatus in se: What does Lewis have to Say? | 54
 - i. The Fall . . . and the Unfallen | 54
 - ii. postlapsarian: The Fallen | 55
 - iii. prelapsarian: The Unfallen | 59
 - iv. lapsarian: Original Sin | 60
- 5. A Doctrine of Total Depravity | 62
 - i. An Inverted Understanding | 62
 - ii. A Doctrine of Limited, or Pseudo-Depravity | 64
- 6. Whither Atonement? | 65

Chapter 3 Creation and The Fall III: Innocence and Sin Re-Interpreted | 67

- 1. Introduction | 68
- 2. The Fall: Re-Told | 68
- 3. The Fall: Variation on a Theme | 71
 - i. An Idealistic Inversion? | 72
 - ii. Dostoevsky: The Dream of a Ridiculous Man, | 73
 - Innocence Corrupted | 73
 - Religion as the Result of the Fall | 74
 - iii. Milton, Paradise Lost | 76
 - iv. Golding: Lord of the Flies | 78
 - v. A Hedonistic Paradise | 79
- 4. Lewis-Pullman: The Fall Re-Visited, or Re-Defined? | 80
 - i. An Unholy Inversion | 80
 - ii. Paradise Retained | 82
 - iii. "All get what they want; they do not always like it." | 84
 - iv. Obedience-Disobedience: A Dialectic | 85

- 5. In the Shadow of Christ: Sin and Sinners | 87
 - i. A Consciousness of Sin | 88
 - Screwtape's Inverted Understanding | 88
 - An Orthodox Teaching | 89
 - Disorder and Responsibility | 90
 - Personal Responsibility | 91
 - "The more important sins" | 92
 - ii. Sinfulness and Desperation | 93
- 6. The Answer: The Christ | 94

Chapter 4 Creation and The Fall IV: The Human Condition before God | 97

- 1. Introduction | 97
- 2. Creation, Neo-Pelagianism, and Transmission | 98
 - i. Solving the Problem for Ourselves | 98
 - ii. Lewis: Grace and Free Will | 98
 - iii. Born this Way? | 100
 - iv. Inheritance? | 102
 - v. Graceless Stress in a Hostile World | 105
- 3. The Independence/Interdependence of Decisions | 106
- 4. eritis sicut Deus: "The Idea" | 108
 - i. The Fall: The Freedom Taken to Redefine | 108
 - ii. "I deduced from all of this the utter necessity of faith in Christ." | 110
- 5. Reason and Natural Law | 111
- 6. Created Freedom and Custodianship: The Human Condition | 114
 - i. Lewis on the Hell of the Self: Condemnation and Destruction | 114
 - ii. What If?—Ontological Custodianship | 117

PART TWO CHRIST REVEALED THROUGH ANALOGICAL AND SYMBOLIC NARRATIVE

Chapter 5 Analogical and Symbolic Narratives I: Narrative Theology, Supposition and Genre, Mythopoeic Theorizing—Imagining The Christ | 123

- 1. Introduction | 124
- 2. Theology after "Modernism" and "Liberalism" | 124
- 3. Narrative Theology | 126
- 4. Lewis: Analogical-Symbolic Narratives | 128
 - i. A Veiled Understanding Outside the Church | 128
 - ii. Genre and Source | 128
- 5. Narnia: Lewis's "Supposal" | 131
 - i. Mythopoeic Theorizing | 131
 - ii. "The Whole Narnian Story is about Christ" | 133
 - iii. Aslan . . . or Christ? | 136
 - iv. "The Probable and the Marvelous" | 136

6. How Successful is Lewis's Supposition? | 138

Chapter 6 Analogical and Symbolic Narratives II: Christology and Christlikeness—
Hiddenness and Multiple Incarnations | 141

1. Introduction | 142
2. Christ, Translated and Transposed | 142
 - i. The imago Christi and the imitatio Christi | 142
 - ii. Christlike—and the Christ | 144
 - iii. Christlikeness—Ransom and Psyche | 144
3. The Hidden Christ I: By Analogy | 145
4. The Hidden Christ II: The Space Trilogy | 146
 - i. Christ's Servants | 146
 - ii. The Anti-Christ | 147
5. The Question of Multiple Incarnations | 150
 - i. The Limits of Atonement? | 150
 - ii. Aquinas Poses the Question | 151
6. Lewis on Multiple Incarnations | 151
 - i. The Doctrine of Universal Redemption | 152
 - ii. Quarantine, Cosmic Implications and Atonement: Wither Humanity? | 152
 - iii. Created Diversity | 157
7. The Argument Extended | 158
 - i. Rahner and Fisher and Fergusson on Multiple Incarnations | 158
 - ii. Bonting, Drees, and Mascall on Multiple Incarnations | 159
 - iii. Hebblethwaite on Multiple Incarnations | 160
 - iv. Crisp on Multiple Incarnations | 163
 - v. Ward on Multiple Incarnations | 165
8. The Argument Resolved? | 165

Chapter 7 Analogical and Symbolic Narratives III: Christology and Christlikeness—
Trinitarian Considerations | 167

1. A Doctrine of God | 168
 - i. God is Triune | 168
 - ii. Immanence and Economic Action | 168
 - iii. God is Love | 169
 - Deus caritas est*—ὁ θεὸς ἀγάπη ἐστίν—God is Love | 169
 - The Eschatological Direction of the Love of God | 169
 - Ever-Focusing on the Other | 170
2. A Christian Analogy? | 172
3. The Trinity in The Space Trilogy | 173
4. A Triune Salvation History? | 174
5. Trinitarian Considerations | 175
 - i. Christian Concepts | 175
 - ii. Creation | 176
 - iii. The Tree and the Garden | 176
 - iv. Sacrifice and Resurrection | 177
 - v. Salvation | 178

- vi. End Times and Final Judgment | 179
- vii. Resurrection Life | 179
- viii. The Stable, Door, and Garden | 179
- 6. A Doctrine of the Trinity | 181
- 7. A Narnian Trinity | 183
 - i. The Triune God: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit | 183
 - ii. The Father: The Emperor-beyond-the-Sea | 184
 - iii. The Son: Aslan—An Epiphanic Enfleshed Theophany | 186
 - iv. The Son: Aslan—an Enfleshed Logos—Corporeal and Creaturely | 187
 - Incarnation or Theophany | 187
 - λόγος ἄσαρκος/λόγος ἑνσαρκος | 188
 - “He no longer looked to them like a lion.” | 189
 - v. The Holy Spirit: The Spirit of the Emperor-beyond-the-Sea and of Aslan | 190
- 8. Pneuma The Holy One: I. A Disquieting Presence | 191
 - i. A Haunting | 192
 - ii. “Who Proceeds from the Father and the Son” | 192
- 9. Pneuma The Holy One: II. Action and event | 193
 - i. The Breath of Aslan | 193
 - ii. The Comforter | 195
 - iii. The Enabler | 196
 - iv. The Chastiser and the Moral Guide | 196
 - v. The Guide and a Symbol of Hope | 198
- 10. A Triune Statement of Self-Revelation | 198
 - i. Trinitarian Language | 198
 - ii. A Trinitarian Revelation: Courage and Hope | 199
 - iii. A Trinitarian Revelation: “I am that I am” | 200
- 11. Conclusion: A Narnian Doctrine of God? | 202

Chapter 8 Analogical and Symbolic Narratives IV: Salvation, Encounters, and Judgment—the Work of the Aslan-Christ | 203

- 1. Introduction | 203
- 2. The Aslan-Christ I: Lewis’s Mythopoeic Sub-Creation | 204
 - i. Aslan | 204
 - ii. Perception: A Human Model | 205
 - Dread and Wrath, Terror and Amazement | 205
 - A Troubling Presence, An Enfleshed Form | 208
 - Fear and Trembling, Hidden and Apophatic | 209
 - Beauty and Love, Grief and Intensity | 211
- 3. The Aslan-Christ II: Encounters | 212
 - i. The Nature of the Encounters | 212
 - ii. Encounters: An Awesome Meeting | 213
- 4. The Aslan-Christ III: Pagan Encounters | 215
 - i. Encounters: Shasta and Aravis, Bree and Hwin | 215
 - Shasta—The Conversion of a Pagan? | 215
 - Aravis—The Conversion of a Religious? | 218
 - Bree and Hwin—The Conversion of Sentient Beings? | 220

ON THE CHRIST OF A RELIGIOUS ECONOMY. I. CREATION AND SUB-CREATION

- ii. Encounters: Emeth | 222
- 5. The Aslan-Christ IV: Judgment—A Narnian Eschaton | 225
 - i. The Finality of Judgment | 225
 - ii. A Shifting Puzzle? | 227
 - iii. Neo-Kantian, Feuerbachian Dwarves? | 229
 - Faith and Disbelief | 229
 - “Oh Adam’s sons, how cleverly you defend yourselves against all that might do you good.” | 230
 - A Baptized Imagination | 234
 - iv. Matthew 25: Pagan Salvation? | 235

Chapter 9 Analogical and Symbolic Narratives V: Father Christmas in Narnia?—Intimations of Atonement and Salvation | 239

- 1. Introduction: How Does It Work? | 240
- 2. Explanations and Criticisms | 241
- 3. The Problem | 244
- 4. The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe | 245
- 5. St. Nicholas, Father Christmas, Santa Claus, Kris Kringle, Jupiter, Jove | 246
- 6. Platonic Idealism and Reality | 247
 - i. Revelation and Myth-Making | 248
 - ii. Transposition | 249
 - iii. Illumination and Intimation | 250
- 7. Father Christmas in Narnia: An Existential Theological Proposition | 252
 - i. The Gift Bearer | 252
 - ii. Cross-Cultural Fertilization | 253
 - iii. Sin, Treachery, and Atonement | 255
 - iv. A Narnian Fall | 256
 - v. “Always Winter and Never Christmas” | 257
- 8. Towards a Narnian Atonement | 258
 - i. Freedom . . . under “The Law” | 259
 - ii. A Ransom Theory of Atonement | 259
 - iii. A Debt Theory of Atonement | 261
- 9. Conclusion | 262